RED CROSS ROLL CALL BEGINS DECEMBER 16TH

Perfecting the Organization and Plans
by Which it is Hoped to Make Ulster
A 100 Per Cent Red Cross County.

The Red Cross roll call is far one way toward the welding of the vast organization necessary to make sure that the summons to universal comradeship and membership will be personally presented to every person in Ulster county in the week of December 16 to 23.

Chairman J. G. Rose of county teams, and Chairman Frank P. Messenger of Kingston city teams, have practically completed the list of captains who are to be privileged to recruit workers to present the invitation of the "Greatest Mother" to join in her work.

Another part of the work—and one which involves a vast amount of difficult services—was ably provided for this morning when Roll Call Chairman John E. Mahar announced the appointment of Charles R. O'Connor as cashier of the Roll Call Campaign. The roll call posters, which Ralph Cohen of the publicity committee is distributing in Kingston with the cooperation of the Boy Scouts, are being placed today throughout the entire county by Women's Motor Corps, under the direction of Mr. Cohen and Lieut. White.

The Motor Corps has become an indispensable part of the civic life of Ulster county. The detail which is carrying the call of the "Greatest Mother" and President Wilson's summons to universal comradeship as portrayed in the form of posters which set a new standard of artistic merit, is composed of Corp. Mildred Hiltbrand, Corp. Dewey, Katherine Keuter, Mary Louise Kearney, Ruth Carl, Angela Dwyer and Margaret Angle.

The booths which have been so notable a feature of other Red Cross membership drives will be used again this year. The selection of Mrs. George Hutton as chairman of the committee on booths, is sufficient guarantee for effective work in this feature of the campaign.

Chairman J. G. Rose of the committee on county teams announced this morning the following list of election district captains:

PRIVATE THOMAS DEAD IN FRANCE

Private Frank Thomas, who left Kingston with Company M, is dead in France, according to word received by his father, Charles C. Thomas, of No. 22 Chambers street, Tuesday evening from the war department. The telegram stated that Private Thomas had died of pneumonia on November 14.

Before being called to the colors Private Thomas was employed on the delivery wagon of J. Leonard Spitzman, the Ponckhockie baker, and was widely known in the downtown section of the city. Just before Company M left Kingston, he was married in marriage to Miss Esther Rathgeber of Gross street. His father is employed as foreman at the U. & D. shops.

Private Thomas was a young man of genial character and had a host of friends who will mourn his death. He was the only member of Company M to be transferred to Company A, 104th Machine Gun Battalion, with Lieutenant Casin, with the first American unit to fight along with the British on Belgian soil. Private Thomas leaves to mourn his death his wife, parents, five sisters and four brothers. He was 23 years of age.

WILSON WILL ENTER GERMANY

Paris, Dec. 4.—That President Wilson will enter Germany during his stay in Europe was regarded as virtually certain, here today.

Tentative arrangements made for the president include a review of certain American troops in company with General Pershing. The units include general veterans of the Marne, St. Mihiel and Argonne battles, now across the German boundary.

Arrangements are being made, also, to conduct Secretary Lansing and others on trips to scenes of the American victories.

Colonel E. M. House is now able to spend a little time outdoors and if his health permits he will meet the presidential party at Brest.

ABOUT THE FOLKS.

John J. Larkin is in New York today looking over the new holiday style in footwear.

Washington, Dec. 4.—The George Washington, bearing the presidential party, will sail directly to a French port—probably Brest—and not first to England, it was learned here today.

It was said that the president's entry into Paris would be somewhat delayed, as at the time of his arrival in France, Paris will be in the midst of a celebration of the release of Alsace-Lorraine.

London, Dec. 4.—The abdication of the German crown prince is expected to be published today, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen quoting the North German Gazette. The decree, it was held, does not concern the crown prince's successor.

ANNUAL INSPECTION OF WATER WAGON IN THE SERVICE OF OUR COUNTRY

Prohibition County Committee Holds
Its Reorganization Meeting at Sahler
Sanitarium, Elects Officers and Hears Reports and Speeches.

The county committee of the Prohibition party of Ulster county met for their annual reorganization meeting at the Dr. C. O. Sahler Sanitarium on December 3, 1918.

The meeting was called to order at 11:30 by the chairman, Leslie Herring, of Ulster Park; the Rev. P. N. Chase, secretary. America was sung. Miss Edith Myer presiding at the piano. Prayer was offered by the Rev. Alice Stevens of Tillsen. Other patriotic songs were sung.

The chairman, who had served so short a time, as he was elected to fill a vacancy, asked the secretary, Dr. Chase, to make the entire report. He made an extended report of securing 500 subscribers to Patriot Phalanx, securing a large enrollment of women last summer. (The largest in the state in comparison with enrollment in other parties). The securing of a large number of names to secure the nomination of the state ticket, and the work done before election, which, because of the influenza, had to be done entirely by mail. A large amount of literature and sample ballots were sent out. More work had been done the past year than in any other year.

The secretary was asked to give some of the inside facts concerning the nomination of Governor Whitman on the Prohibition ticket and in doing so handed without gloves a few in the party who made that nomination possible.

Dr. P. N. Chase, who is also the treasurer, reported the receipts for the year $400.24 and disbursements $288.37, leaving a balance of $111.87. This did not include about $200 contributed by some of the candidates which was used for printing, postage and the like.

Election of officers resulted in the unanimous election of Leslie Herring of Ulster Park for chairman; Eva Perrine Hare of Walkkill and Edward Smith of Ellenville, vice chairman; Rev. P. N. Chase, secretary and treasurer. Dr. Chase was also elected city chairman.

A goodly sum was pledged for the work of next year.

A committee, consisting of Rev. Seneca Stevens, Nathan Ackart and Rev. P. N. Chase, was appointed to send an expression of sympathy to Frank E. Howard, who was reported as seriously ill at the Embarcation Camp at Newport News, where he has been doing Y. M. C. A. work.

Dinner was served at 1 o'clock. The following was the menu: Cream of onion soup, celery, roast Ulster turkey, sage dressing; mashed potatoes, fresh lettuce, French dressing, green string beans, fruit jelly, whipped cream, coffee.

Mon. Joseph M. Fowler and Hon. Joel Brink, who were both endorsed by the Prohibition party at the last election, were guests at dinner, and made after dinner addresses. Other speakers were Leslie Herring, Rev. Seneca Stevens, John L. Schultz, John Herring, Mrs. Sarah M. LeFevre and the Rev. P. N. Chase.

Forty partook of the dinner. The meeting was most enthusiastic. With thirty-two states now bode the national prohibition amendment, and five wet states having already done so, with a number of other states with dry legislation, which will fall in time, it looks as if there would be forty-three states to ratify, rather than the thirty-six which are necessary.

With distilleries closed, and all breweries closed three days ago and war prohibition coming July 1, 1919, the national amendment coming before war prohibition will expire, was reason enough for enthusiasm.

The day long prayer for seems near at hand.

With the large attendance, the great enthusiasm and the dinner determination to do more and better work.

The interest of the women in the work was apparent by the presence of thirteen women, who are members of the county committee.

Another Incident Following the Failure of Kline's Brokerage Business.

In This City—Plaintiff Won in Similar Case a Year Ago.

Interest at today's session of supreme court, presided over by Judge Nichols, centered principally in No. 48, Charles Leiching against Van Buren and others, being an action to recover for conversion of stock certificates held by the defendant broker, term of John D. Kline of this city.

The case is similar in almost every respect to the one tried in 1917, wherein Anna Leiching of Port Jervis was awarded a verdict for $14,436 against Van Buren and others.

Charles Leiching sued to recover a balance due him from John D. Kline, when the latter retired from the brokerage business. Van Buren and Company, members of the Consolidated Stock Exchange, were the New York correspondents of Kline, and closed out his account, leaving a balance, according to the testimony of C. H. Van Buren, of about $8,500.

After the amount of the judgment to Anna Leiching and legal fees to Cromwell and Sullivan, New York attorneys, employed to defend the case, had been paid.

The case revolves around whether a ten-share certificate of U. S. Steel stock was held by Kline for Leiching as collateral, or simply for safe keeping. The transfer on the back Leiching's name, but Leiching denies it is his signature. Mr. Kline also denies knowledge of how it was signed, and Matthew B. Fowler, who was the telegraph operator for Kline, and whose name appears as witness to the signature, testified that he did not see Leiching sign it, nor did Leiching tell him he signed it, but that it was brought to him by Kline and Merwin, with the request that he sign it, which he did, that being the only occasion of his kind on which a similar request was made of him.

Leiching's attorney, on most matters, was extremely vague. He having been ill a good part of the time, said, and his explanations of selling the market "short" and "long" caused more or less laughter. He admitted that he did not know how much Kline owed him, but that he owed Kline when the firm closed.

Mr. Van Buren testified that Kline's balance at the time of the failure was $220,021, irrespective of the stock transaction.

Cromwell and Sullivan, the New York attorneys for the defense, were represented by W. H. Sikes and Judge Clearwater, while Judge Jones and William Brinkner appeared for the plaintiff.

Prior to the beginning of this case, two requests came up, as follows: James H. Shields, proprietor of the Lackawack House at Lackawack, against Thomas A. Gorman, for services rendered and money loaned. The defendant had had accommodations for himself, family and servants at the hotel for a considerable period, and had at different times borrowed money from Mr. Shields, the plaintiff, according to the defendant's figures, $14,227.75, which amount was awarded to him by the jury at the direction of the court.

Edward S. Foster against William T. Hickey, to recover damages caused by Mr. Foster's automobile being driven into a defendant's car backing into it as it stood at the curb in front of Foster's store. By direction of the court, after expert testimony, the jury awarded a verdict for the plaintiff of $62.

Former German Liner Left Pier at Hoboken at 10:24 This Morning With Presidential Party on Board.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Hoboken, N. J., Dec. 4.—President Wilson sailed for Europe this morning to attend the peace conference, establishing a precedent in American history.

The historic voyage began at 10:24 o'clock when the former Hamburg-American liner, George Washington, bearing the president and a large party, began warping out from her pier.

America bid God speed to the presidential party in a tumult of noise. Thousands of persons in Hoboken, Jersey City and lower New York city joined in a thunderous burst of cheering while all of the craft in the harbor united their whistles and sirens in one mighty shriek of ear splitting noise.

The liner is being conveyed by a squadron of war craft, led by the battleship Pennsylvania, while seaplanes and dirigibles hovered over the ship and her precious cargo.

Hoboken, Jersey City and lower Manhattan were a riot of color with the flags of the Allied nations hung from every staff and countless windows. Old Glory predominated, however.

President and Mrs. Wilson, the central figures on the ship, were accompanied by two other of the American peace envoys, Secretary of State Lansing and Henry White, General Tasker H. Bliss, the fourth envoy, and Colonel E. M. House, the fifth envoy, are already in France.

The French and Italian ambassadors and the Belgian minister were on board as well as many army officers and other attaches. Many of the members of the party were accompanied by their families.

The George Washington is scheduled to arrive at a French port on Saturday, December 14, according to present schedule.

The George Washington will keep in daily touch with Washington by wireless and will be met in mid-Atlantic by a convoy of Allied warships (including American), which will escort her to port.

President Wilson is the first president of the United States to visit Europe during his tenure of office and the event marks a new era of American's position in world affairs.

President Wilson, accompanied by a large party, arrived here from Washington on a special train at 7:30 and immediately went on board the George Washington.

It was a triumphant journey throughout. Despite the earliness of the hour, crowds turned out in the lower villages and a mass of about twenty thousand people greeted the party as the train passed into Hoboken.

An armed guard of 5,000 men was provided for the president in Hoboken and the path which he traveled from the train to the liner was strewn with flowers. Bouquets of roses were tossed to Mr. and Mrs. Wilson as they passed through the double guard of soldiers, yeomen and policemen.

As the president went on board the liner and again as the ship drew slowly out from her pier the night sky in New York city, originally established to give news of hostile attacks in war time, burst forth with a flood of light.

Every harbor craft and hundreds of factory whistles joined in the salute.

There was a great gaudy display in the harbor as the George Washington went down past the Statue of Liberty. Among the conveying fleet is the mighty battleship Pennsylvania, which will lead the presidential ship across the Atlantic as a buffer in the event that any obstructions might be encountered. The Pennsylvania is commanded by Vice Admiral Mayo.

northwest winds tonight and tomorrow moving eastward.

As the ship got away President Wilson stood alone upon the bridge, keenly watching the famous sky line fall behind him. The president had changed his costume and wore a derby hat and a long brown overcoat as protection against the cutting wind. Mrs. Wilson, accompanied by some others, was on C deck.

The ship moved slowly over from the New Jersey shore to the New York shore, accompanied by a bevy of noisy tugs.

As the nose of the presidential liner pointed out to sea the destroyer Delphi thundered the presidential salute of 21 guns which was answered by the George Washington.

One of the spectacular thrills accompanying the departure of the George Washington was furnished by who huge army airplanes. They moved swiftly through the haze coming from the east and as they approached the line they dipped low, though bowing in salute. Then they swiftly ascended and moved out towards the Atlantic. Others hovered above the liner and her convoys.

President Wilson was a keen observer of everything that went on around him. As the ship passed the Statue of Liberty, the president's sailors with her burden of cheering soldiers he waved his hat in greeting.

Frequently he looked upward at the great navy planes that were circling and dodging in the air. They formed part of the liner's convoy. Nearly the George, as he was slipping from her pier was the President Grant and the transport American. The sailors on these great ships clambered into the rigging, shouting and cheering and waving their caps.

The George Washington's siren let off a blast as the vessel moved out which was a signal for a reinforcement of cheering and whistle blowing.

Sixteen grim, gray war craft lined up in convoy array as the George Washington got under way to escort her out into the Atlantic. It made an imposing, heart stirring picture. Five of them only will make the entire trip.

As the George Washington passed down into Buttermilk channel past the Statue of Liberty the president stood bareheaded.

Ferry boats joined their whistles to the siren while the passengers lined the rails cheering at the top of their voices.

Governor's Island (headquarters of the army department of the east) and Staten Island contributed their share of noise.

The liner quickened her speed as she got into the lower channel, quarters of the harbor and passed quickly at 11:15 o'clock going at full steam ahead.

Many were the patriotic touches that marked the president's departure.

A band on shipboard played the National Anthem and other patriotic airs all the way down the bay. But the most impressive touch of all occurred just as the ship was leaving her pier. A regimental band stationed on the dock started up "The Star Spangled Banner." It was taken up by the band on shipboard and the thousands gathered outside took up the air, the burst of sound rolling far out into the city.

The George Washington was gallantly dressed out in flags and as she passed into the lower harbor the throngs on board pressed to the rail gazing at the sky line, rapidly fading into the mist.

The weather was not as favorable as it might have been for the occasion. It was rainy and foggy, without a sign of sunshine.

The weather was fine for flying, however, and the daring airplane pilots took full advantage of it, diving the crowds one of the most daring exhibitions they had ever seen in mid-air.

New, dives, spins, tall falls and looping-the-loops came in quick succession, causing the spectators to hold their breath at times as the planes dived and twisted through the air.

The president was a keen and interested observer of the air racing. He watched the airman, whose speculation in his own mind how far these brave masters of the air had played in winning the war.

The last glimpse the people of Hoboken had of the George Washington was when she swung majestically through the mist past the southern shores of Staten Island.

SHAFFER URGES FOOD SAVING

Filled with enthusiastic plans for having Ulster county do its share toward making Conservation Week for Worldwide Relief the greatest drive for saving food that the world has ever known, County Food Administrator W. C. Shaffer returned from an inspiring meeting held at the Plaza Hotel, New York city on Monday afternoon. About 250 men and women, including the county food administrator and a woman representative from each county in the state were present at the meeting. Mrs. William A. Warren attended as the personal representative of the women of Ulster county. Conservation week began Sunday when Mr. Hoover's message to the American people was read from every pulpit in the country.

"The meeting was one of the most inspiring I have ever attended," said Mr. Shaffer today. "I have come back from it determined to make Ulster county go 'over the top' in its share of America's pledge of 20 million tons of food to starving Europe. This is more than 60 2 1/2 per cent more food than we sold last year and more than we have three pounds of food given by every person in Ulster county last year, for she must save two pounds this year."

Frederick C. Walcott, of the U. S. Food Administration, who came to the meeting as Mr. Hoover's representative, gave us a wonderful message to carry back to our country.

HERE AND THERE ABOUT THE TOWN

The Stroller Hears City Boards Are Busy Making Up Annual Budgets, and That They Will Be Larger.

"Who was that you just shaved?" queried the customer dropping in the barber shop for a chat.

"That was one of the members of one of the city boards," replied the busy barber.

"Well what did he have to say for himself?" asked the customer.

"Just nothing," replied the barber, "but seeing him reminds me of the fact that all of the city boards are busy making their annual budgets for next year."

"What's the rush?" asked the customer.

"They have to have them filed with the city clerk by the fifteenth," explained the barber.

"I suppose our taxes will be lower next year now that the war is ended," mused the customer.

"I guess you will have another think coming then," replied the barber.

"How is that?" queried the customer.

"You have not seen war prices for clothing, food and coal dropping any yet have you?" countered the barber, "and as long as the price of necessities stay up you got to expect that taxes will too, for it costs more to run a city nowadays than it used to."

"I did see where the alms board have less than a dollar left in the treasury," said the customer.

"That ought to give you an idea then of what it costs to run the city's business," replied the barber, "and I tell you straight that even with the high cost of food Superintendent Edmonston has been able to feed the inmates at the City Home at a cost of only 51 cents more a week than last year."

"That must take some management," said the customer.

"You said something," replied the barber.

LESS "FLU" IN FRANCE

Than on This Side, According to Soldiers' Letters.

Private Walter E. Snyder, son of George L. Snyder, 625 Broadway, has written this letter, describing the joy of the French at Bordeaux upon the signing of the armistice, to his sister:

Bordeaux, France, Nov. 13, 1918.

Dear Sir: (Mum)

Received your letter of the 10th month, 15th day. It must have been on a little trip around the country because I have received mail from home that was written before this one.

I was very much surprised to hear that there was so much flu down at Camp Johnston. I think there is much more sickness in the states than over here.

It is quite cool over here now, and you might say that we sleep in the open air. There are no windows in our barracks, and I sleep in a fine place and get lots of air. I picked it out the day we moved in. I sleep with three blankets and overcoat over me. I wake up some times with a red nose, but it certainly makes you feel fine. I don't think the boys will feel as good when they get the windows in and the stove going as they do now. Our barracks is a new one. When we moved in it was not completed.

I was up to see Ted Wood last night and I stayed with him talking and reading until about 10 o'clock. I see Virgil Everett about every day now, also. I put him on my way over here to the mess hall. That is where I write most of my letters. I like both of the boys very much.

Well, I'll talk about celebrations. As luck would have it, I had the afternoon off on the 11th, but I did not know before dinner that I was going to have a big time in the city, but the whistles started to blow around 2 o'clock and that is when the fun started. Well, the French people were crazy and they have not stopped yet, so I understand. All the stores have been closed ever since. I do not know when they will stop. They have parades. No formation, just a leader and some flags and the rest of it is a mob. They are up traffic of all kinds. I expect to celebrate when I get home, also.

I do not know who I owe letters, but I will try to answer all of them. Tell Lu I will write very soon. I am your loving brother.

WALT.

Regards to all my friends.

DIETS WITH THE BRITISH.

Kingston Boy Has Been in Active Service Since August, 1915.

With the British Ex. Force, Somewhere in France, Oct. 22, 1918.

To The Freeman:

I am a young fellow with good old Kingston and its surroundings on your paper. I wish some of its readers to not forget one of the Kingston boys who was so well known in the vicinity of No. 7 and 8 Schools. I fear by being with the British Ex. Force that some of the change from his vicinity would lose all hopes of hearing or even seeing me again for I have been in France since August, 1915, and have shared in some of the hardships of this great struggle for freedom. I took part in the battle of Loos, 15, September 16, third battle of Ypres, September 24, 1917, Cambrai, Nov. 1917, and Ghent and Festubert, April 9-15, 1918, and at present I am assisting to drive the Hun from Belgium. I can assure you the Hun is having a tough old time, and is quite ready to chuck in the towel. I have had the pleasure to read the accounts of the great "St. Michel" and numerous other "stunts" that my regiment has been doing on the front. I often wish that I could be there to join them, but at present we are all out for the one cause and "Mr. Wilson" will see that we get it. If we get on German territory I am sure we will have gained our goal, and once again can settle down in "God's Country" to enjoy the comforts we have earned. But if Heine is too impatient to see it, well, well, blow him out for America is ready to hand her help to any man who will help her to win the war.

If I can come to publish this letter in a corner of your paper perhaps some of my old Kingston friends would be glad to know that I am still in one piece and will be glad to hear from them. My address can be obtained at 148 "St. Michel" street, Paris. Thinking you will not forget me, I have written to mention one of our "over there" readers.

VAN VALKENBURGH IS NOW ALDERMAN

He Succeeds Charles E. Powell, Etc.
—Alderman Van Valkenburgh is Manager of McIntire Insurance Agency.

Mayor Canfield late Tuesday afternoon appointed William A. Van Valkenburgh, of No. 38 West O'Reilly street, alderman of the Ninth ward.

At the vacancy caused by the resignation of Alderman Charles E. Powell, the paper box manufacturer, Alderman Van Valkenburgh assumed his duties at the regular monthly session of the common council Tuesday evening.

As told in The Freeman at the time Alderman Powell resigned as he expected to be away from Kingston all winter, and did not think his ward should be without a representative in the council chambers. After filing his resignation with Mayor Canfield he left with William Decker for an auto trip across the continent to California, where he will spend the winter.

Alderman Van Valkenburgh for the past sixteen years has been connected with the McIntire Insurance Agency at No. 6 Broadway, and for the past six years has been manager of the agency. He is a young man of executive ability and is well known throughout the city. His appointment will meet the approval of all.

BARTSCH FINDS WAR IS "GREAT SPORT"

Forty Men From Camp Upton Captured a Town and 350 German Prisoners—Shell Dropped Within Three Feet of Him.

PRIV. JOHN GUILFORD BARTSCH

On Active Service with the American Expeditionary Forces, Somewhere in France, October 22, 1918. Co. H, 368th Inf., 77th Division.

My Dear Mother, Father and Sister: I received quite a few letters from you and was sure delighted to get them. The latest one was postmarked October 1st. This is the first I have had time to write you in two weeks as we have been very busy making a drive and believe me we sure did make a grand success of it. We were ordered to go "over the top" this particular morning and while we were marching through a field a "Jerry" observation balloon directing their artillery floated over our heads. We had shells dropping like snow-flakes around us. Some of our boys were hit and a few killed and I can hardly see how they missed me. I had one shell drop within three feet of me and all that happened was that I was all covered with dirt.

Our captain was ordered to take our company and flank the town. We traveled double time and lost part of the company. When it came time for the attack we found there were only forty men in the company. It was a large town but we went in with the forty men, and as we were advancing up a street a Hun shot at us. One of our men shot back and missed. We chased him back and he dropped a bomb in a cellar, then he and six others marched out with their hands up.

It was great sport and we captured the town and also 350 prisoners. I was appointed with seven others to take them back of the lines. We got quite a few souvenirs from them. I had a piece of their bread and butter and believe me it was good. They all seemed to be glad they were taken prisoners. They said that four years was long enough for the war to last.

Mother, dear, we had a permit issued which allows each soldier to have a package sent him. I am enclosing mine and as you get it I wish you would rush my package through. I think candy would be best and in a tin box if possible. The sooner you get it off the sooner it will reach me.

I hope you are all well and managing to keep healthy these days. It is beginning to get cold here and I suppose it is the same back home. I have one envelope left and I think I will save it to write you later. We are out for a rest now and I hope to be able to get some before long. I have some postal cards that Billy at Gibson's sent me and I will use them if necessary. I owe Aunt May, Aunt Lucy and Uncle John letters, but will have to wait until I get stationery for same.

I am glad to hear that you are making such good progress and hope she graduates soon. I bet the boat yard is some busy place. I should like to have been home to see the big ship launched. I'll bet dad is proud he had a hand in it.

Tell grandma I send her my love and to take care of herself these autumn days. You also take care of yourself.

All the trees are turning color over here and show signs of winter, but I hope to be home with you by Christmas or New Year's.

Well, dear folks, I think I will close for this time, hoping this finds you as well as I am. With all the love in the world, from Your loving son and brother, JOHN.

Private John Guilford Bartsch is a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Bartsch, of Warren street. He left for Camp Upton February 26, and sailed for France April 15, 1918. Before being inducted into the service Mr. Bartsch was employed by the North River Coal Co., this city.

Scots All Lovers of Dogs.

Scotland is a great sheep-growing country, yet it loves the dog; gives him his due in life and revere him in death. At the castle in Edinburgh there is a little plot of ground where the dogs of the Scottish soldiers are buried. It is a charming spot, and on many little tombstones there are tender tributes to departed friends. In front of Saint Giles cathedral in the same noble city, there is a monument to a little skye terrier, and upon it, carved in stone, an inscription to Robble, who refused to leave the churchyard where his master was buried, and died upon his grave.

Ferocious Rhino.

The rhinoceros would be just as formidable as the buffalo were his sight as good. But he has to go a bit slowly because of dependence on the sense of smell. Once within a few yards of his object, where his weak eyes can distinguish it—then look out! His charge is something terrible, and the only safe place is a tree. When African natives are asked what animal they most fear, nearly all of them do not hesitate to say the rhino.

THE FRANKLIN CAR

Here are Two Good Reasons For Choosing It.

The first reason is: because it delivers, day in and day out.

20 miles to the gallon of gasoline—instead of the usual 10.

The second reason, equally forceful, is: because it delivers.

10,000 miles to the set of tires—instead of the usual 5,000.

There is no longer any excuse for owning a wasteful motor car. Franklin Light Weight has put heavy cumbersome construction into the discard, and brings about the needed economy of gasoline and tires.

And, in the Franklin, you will find that economical operation is only one of the different things. With it go riding comforts such as you have never experienced before, an ease of handling that leaves you free from strain, and a Direct Air Cooling system that eliminates, entirely the many summer and winter troubles common to water-cooled cars.

May we bring a car around for demonstration?

smoothly up to this moment when Alderman Preston filed a resolution with the city clerk which was read. The resolution was to the effect that the last proposed theater license ordinance be taken from the table and a vote taken on its adoption.

The Preston resolution was promptly seconded by Alderman Rogers of the Second ward.

Alderman Preston in reply to a question by Alderman Schick said that the ordinance he had in mind was the one Mayor Canfield had submitted at the May meeting. That was the best ordinance that had been submitted and action should be taken on it. It had lain on the table long enough.

Mann Wanted It Read.

It developed that the ordinance had not been tabled but had simply been postponed when upon that it was taken up by Alderman Preston introduced the ordinance itself.

"I think it ought to be read first," suggested Alderman Mann of the Sixth ward.

Doremus Read It.

City Clerk Doremus read the ordinance. In brief it fixes the license fee at from $25 to $100 per year, according to the kind of show put on and the seating capacity of the theater.

Schick's Objection.

Alderman Schick said that while he had no objection to the ordinance itself, still he did not think it ought to be voted on that night, but that it should lay over until the January meeting.

"I think it should be disposed of now," said Alderman Rogers.

Alderman Kelly of the Fifth ward said he saw no reason why it should not lay over until the January meeting and seconded the Schick resolution to that effect.

Alderman Schick's resolution was adopted by a vote of 7 to 2. Those voting against laying it over being Alderman Rogers and Rogers.

The council then extended a welcome to the new alderman from the Ninth ward, and adjourned.

ROUS SENDS A HELMET.

Relief of the Smashing of the Hindenburg Line Arrives.

Supervisor William H. Kolts has placed on exhibition at the barber shop of Henry Thomas, 362 Broadway, a steel helmet sent to him by his son, Harry J. Kolts, Co. 1, 105th Infantry, 27th Division. The helmet which is camouflaged bears the name of Musk Simon, No. 61, who was killed during the breaking of the Hindenburg line, in which Private Kolts was engaged, he being in the thick of the fight and picking up the helmet on the battlefield.

Aeroplane Passed Over Kingston.

That particularly noisy aeroplane which passed north over the city Tuesday afternoon was a big army machine from Garden City, carrying a new propeller for another army plane which had smashed its propeller in landing about two and one-half miles west of Athens. The latter had been giving exhibitions at Schenectady. The 130-mile trip from Garden City to Athens was made in six-five minutes. The machines were both expected to return south today after the new propeller had been attached. Scouts Lucas and Rowley were in charge.

HEALTH BOARD MAY OPEN LABORATORY

Application Made to Supervisors for Quarters in Tuberculosis Camp—Other Matters Considered by the Supervisors.

After the opening of the session of the board of supervisors, Tuesday evening, under the head of communications, Clerk DeWitt read the following from Mayor Canfield:

Office of the Mayor, City of Kingston, N. Y., Dec. 4, 1918. To the Board of Supervisors of the County of Ulster:

Gentlemen:—One head board of health desires to take action toward the establishment of a laboratory, which it deems necessary to properly safeguard and protect the health of the people of the city.

If it should take such action, of course, it would be available to the people of the rest of the county and would also safeguard their health as well.

In connection therewith the board would probably be desirous of purchasing the equipment of the county laboratory which has been in use for the past year or more. If your board would dispose of the same at a satisfactory price it might also be deemed advisable for the county to lease the room formerly occupied by the laboratory at a nominal rent.

However, in order that there may be someone with the necessary power to represent your board with whom we can make the necessary negotiations and agreement, I request that you appoint a committee clothed with the necessary power to take action in the matter.

Respectfully,
PALMER CANFIELD, JR., Mayor.

The chair referred the communication to the Committee on Tuberculosis Hospital and Laboratory.

The annual report of the board of managers of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital was filed, signed by Joseph M. Fowler, president, and referred to the Committee on Tuberculosis Hospital and Laboratory. In the introduction to the report, the managers state the hospital is overcrowded, and with the homecoming of the soldiers from the war with danger of increase in tuberculosis cases, an addition to the hospital is needed. Of the appropriation of $10,000 last year $9,805.83 was expended, leaving a small balance. An appropriation of $10,000 is requested. Resolutions to appropriate moneys were offered and laid over under the rule.

By Supervisor Terwilliger—That there be raised and levied on the town of Shawangunk, $1,000 to pay bridge bonds and interest due Wallkill National Bank.

By Supervisor Kolts—That the report of the Board of County Auditors be adopted, and that there be levied on the county $3.52 to pay overdraft and $12,000 to be paid to county treasurer to reimburse him for moneys paid out on audits of the county auditors.

The reports of the Committee on Superintendent of Poor Accounts on Sheriff's Bills, on Printing Bills, with recommendation to raise moneys, were also adopted. A resolution of Supervisor Young to levy on the town of Marlborough, exclusive of the village of Marlborough, to pay highway bonds and interest.

On motion of Supervisor Stephan the board took a recess until Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.
